IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT FUNERAL BIER OF WILLIAM E. DARGIE

Tender Words of Sympathy and Beautiful Floral Offerings Tell Worth of the Dead

The funeral of the late William Edward Dargie, owner of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, took place this afternoon from the family home at the corner of Lake Shore Boulevard and East Twelfth street, and the remains now rest in Mountain View Cemetery.

The exercises were simple and impressive and were attended by a large number of people from every walk of life. There were among the throng people in humble circumstances who had been the object of the benefactions of the deceased, as there were also men of exalted station known over the country in mercantile, professional and political life.

The day was overcast but there was nothing but manifestation of regret for the passing of the deceased who had endeared himself to thousands of people in all parts of the State and at the same time in the country.

The heartiness of the tribute to the deceased was evinced in a collection of floral mementos which had never been excelled on a similar occasion in this city or, indeed, in any other city on the Pacific Coast where but a private citizen was called away. There was an infinite variety of floral designs, some of which were of a most elaborate character, showing the highest skill on the part of the florist, and intermingled with these were the modest tribute of violets from persons of less noted and influential stations of life.

These fragrant expressions of regard were artistically disposed in the parlors and halls of the home and so appropriately were they placed that there was not a section of the walls of the apartments which was not hidden from view by this tapestry of flowers.

The casket lay in the south parlor of the home, and was literally surrounded with flowers, though the pall was the only offering on the casket. The features of the deceased had an expression of repose with a suggestion of the genial smile which had characterized him in life.

In Peaceful Sleep

There was no evidence of the great effort he had made in the sick room. The casket was of bronze, with simple but imposing ornamentations, and upon the lid was engraved the words in gold letters:

WILLIAM EDWARD DARGIE,

The pall, which was the offering of the widow, was a rich and beautiful assemblage of violets and lilies of the valley.

Memory of Son

In the casket with the remains was the dress suit of the late lamented William E. Dargie Jr., the son of the deceased. Speaking on the matter today, Mrs. Dargie said:

It was my son's last wish, when he was ill, that I never part with his dress suit—it having been the first one he owned.

I have never taken this same from its resting place until today, when I thought to lay away the same with the father who had placed his entire future in his son.

An especially beautiful floral tribute was a massive cross sent by William E. Dargie.

An eloquent sentiment was from the Newsboys' Union, hearing on it the following: "Oakland's Newsboys' Friend."

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Alexander Allen, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. William C. Pond of Palo Alto, who is the pioneer Congregational minister of this section of the state.

It was he who baptized Mr. Dargie when the latter was an infant. That was nearly fifty-seven years ago and during all that time there has existed between the clergyman and the deceased the kindest feeling of love and respect.

The exercises on the part of Rev. Dr. Allen consisted of the reading of the scriptures and the offering of a prayer for the soul of the deceased.

The funeral service of the Episcopal church, which makes no allowance for eulogy, but the Psalms were read in a tender and tearful manner, the speaker denoting that he felt deeply moved in the performance of the last services of the church for the deceased. During the services the honorary pallbearers occupied the chamber adjoining that on which lay the casket.

"Bay Point" Train Jumps Track and Engine and Baggage Car Rolls Into Ditch

No One Killed, but Four Sustain Severe Injuries; Engineer Badly Hurt

MARTINEZ, Feb. 13.—

Train No. 146, west-bound, known as the Bay Point Local, jumped the track this morning at 11:30 o'clock a short distance above Martinez. The engine and baggage car rolled into the bay, while two of the passenger coaches and the smoker piled up on the track.

Fortunately no one was killed. The engineer and fireman jumped from the locomotive and escaped with minor injuries. A number of the passengers and several of the train crew sustained slight injuries.

SPREADING RAILS

Traffic will be delayed until late tonight and the Overland Limited (No. 3) is being sent around by the way of Alameda. The train was running at about twenty-five miles an hour when the accident occurred. It is believed that spreading rails caused the engine to leave the track. A distance of fifty yards the entire train ran along the ties before the engine and baggage car went into the ditch.

The train was in charge of Conductor Ed Rivers.

The engineer and fireman jumped just as the locomotive pitched over the embankment, as did also the baggage man, while the passengers after being hurled

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S ILLNESS IS PROVED QUITE SERIOUS

The German Emperor and his favorite grandson, Prince Wilhelm, from a photograph taken last month.

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—The indisposition of Emperor William apparently is more serious than has been indicated in the official announcements, though it is indicated that no anxiety concerning the outcome is felt.

The first bulletins described his majesty as suffering from a cold, but with the absence of any fever. Subsequently it was admitted an attack of feverish influenza had been experienced.

Today it is said the Emperor is up after two days in bed, but that he will be confined to his chamber until the end of the present week. The court ball set for Wednesday night has been cancelled.

The body of Gibson was later found floating in the bay.

It is believed the row boat got in the way of the ferry and was upset.

A naval court of inquiry is investigating the accident today. Gibson enlisted at Detroit, Michigan, in 1897 and had been on the South Dakota two years and a half.

President James Rolfe and a committee will meet Mullally at Oakland pier.

ROBBERS GET $6000 AND FIGHT RUNNING BATTLE WITH POLICE

One of the Officers Is Wounded, While Yeggmen Make Their Escape in a Stolen Rig

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Blowing up the safe of the Nippon Bank of this city at 3:50 this morning, five bandits succeeded in getting away with $5908.97 after seriously wounding Policeman Charles Fairlin and his friend, Charles Allison.

In the excitement following the explosion which wrecked the safe, Deputy Sheriff Moffitt was shot at by one of the robbers who was keeping watch at Third and L streets.

The bullet whizzed past Moffitt's ear, and all that prevented the deputy sheriff from returning the fire was that he thought the man who shot at him from Third and L was Policeman Becker, engaged in a running pistol duel with the law-breakers.

Cool Piece of Work

The robbery was one of the coolest pieces of safe-cracking that has ever been perpetrated in this city. From the reports of those who saw the bandits there were five men implicated and after executing the robbery they went down the alleys to a point about two blocks from the bank, where they had a rig tied and are believed to have driven out of the city.

James E. Knapp of 918 Q street reported to the officers this morning that his horse and wagon had been stolen during the night, and it is thought that the bank robbers used this rig to make their getaway. Knapp also missed a pick shovel and sledge hammer, which were found this morning at the scene of the robbery, thus giving the connecting link between the theft of the rig and the robbery.

SHERIFF'S STORY.

Deputy Sheriff Moffitt, who was one of the first on the scene of this safe cracking after hearing the explosion, gave the following account of the affair:

"When I reached the corner of the alley on L, between Third and Fourth, a man whom I had noticed standing on the corner, clad in rubber coat and boots, stepped out to the curb and shot at me with his pistol.

"I reached for my gun, but did not shoot, for there seemed to be something familiar about the dark figure on the corner and I thought it was Officer Becker mixed up in another shooting affray, and for that reason withheld fire.

"Almost as soon as he had shot at me the man on the corner wheeled and, drawing a pump gun, one of those sawed off shot guns which professional safe crackers often use, fired down Third street, at the same time calling out 'gentlemen, stand back.'

MAN THEN DISAPPEARED.

"He then disappeared, and when I reached the corner I met ex-Police Officer Pullen and Allison, both of whom had been wounded by the buckshot. We three hurried to the weakened bank, which was still smoking from the explosion, where we were immediately joined by Sergeant Penning and Officers Reath and Fenderson.

The man who had fired at us was seen to join the other men and disappear down the alley back of the bank."

Pullen received heavy buckshot, all of which lodged in the thigh and legs. Two of them were removed by the physicians and the remaining nine are still in the flesh.

According to his story and that of Allison, Deputy Sheriff Moffitt, the big bandit in rubber coat and boots who guarded the corner of L and Third, fired, both times without warning, or at least his warning came the second he fired.

The loot secured by the robbers consisted of $5908.97 in money, as follows:

MONEY AND JEWELS.

$200 in currency, $4350 gold, $218 silver, $345.50 in half dollars, $55.00 in quarters, $308 in dimes, $10 in nickels, 27 cents in pennies, $616.50 in checks, $109.50, California National bank check for money received for deposit, nine gold watches with plain gold rings, a number of promissory notes and papers.

There were also taken a certificate of deposit with the Yokohama bank for the sum of $5000.

W. Williams, a boy who was driving a wood wagon on Pitt street, between O and P, this morning, ran over one of the watches, crushing it under the wheel. He got out to pick it up and incidentally found the strong box, with the other watches and jewelry, which evidently had been thrown away by the bandits.

POLICE SEIZE BOX.

He took the box to the cannery to show it to his father and was noticed by Officer Thelan, who interpreted the lad as he was carrying the box into the place and took it away from him.

The gold watches, five diamonds and two plain gold rings were found intact in the strong box.

The police have information that the bandits are the same who recently attempted a holdup at Winters, Yolo county.

EVENTFUL WEEK COMING FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

LOCAL OPTION BILL TO COME UP IN SENATE

Senator L. W. Juilliard, who promises to amend the Wyllie bill.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—What has been the eventful days of the present legislature began today.

The session is about half gone, according to present estimates of its duration. Introduction of bills is ended, and some measures of great weight, notably the bill enlarging the powers of the railroad commission, already have been passed and received the governor's signature, but many of almost equal significance, and a volume of minor bills appealing to the experience, remain to be considered.

For the coming week, Assemblyman Wyllie's local option bill, passed in the lower House and due for final consideration in the Senate, seems to be the center of interest. The vote on it admittedly will be close, unless amendments which Senator Juilliard promises to offer and which are not in favor with advocates of the bill, are adopted.

TO ABOLISH COMMISSION.

One of the most important measures which will come up in the Assembly during the week is Assemblyman Griffith's bill providing for the abolishing of the fish and game commission, the duties formerly discharged by the commission to be in the hands of the State Board of Forestry. A bill removing the restriction from the removal of sealion from ships will probably be considered Tuesday or Wednesday.

The bill is advocated by Walter MacArthur, representing the Sealmen's union, on the ground that the present construction of the law tends to rate sealmen as chaffers.

A plan discussed in the roads and highway committee of the Assembly last week for co-operation with Oregon in the building of a Canada to Mexico highway, in the expenditure of $15,000,000, the roads fund, still is under consideration and may take definite form in the appointment of a committee with a similar committee from Oregon.

"OPEN SHOP" FIGHT.

Members of the legislature from the southern part of the state will continue their fight for the "open shop" in connection with the expenditure of $50,000 in bonds voted by the state for San Francisco exposition. Assemblyman Cogswell and Cattell claim to have pledged six of the eleven members of the assembly committee on municipal corporations to this effect. The committee now has under consideration the enabling act which was introduced last week in the bill there is no declaration for either union labor or the "open shop," but the southern members assert that they were given to understand at the session which submitted the bond proposition that the state would refrain from any specification in favor of organized labor.

CURTIN SURE.

The report that numerous incorporated concerns are about to take steps to disincorporate, so as to avoid being taxed on their franchises by the new taxation system, brought a statement yesterday from Senator Curtin, the father of this system, to the effect that he had no general opinion, but that the state would lose a considerable portion of its expected revenue from the assessment franchises. Curtin says that taxation of all corporate franchises is not a new idea, as some suppose, for the constitution includes franchises among property that shall be taxed. In most counties, however, franchises have not been assessed at all, and the assembly committee only the larger corporations have been taxed on their franchises.

BUCKETSHOP LEGISLATION.

The merchants' exchange of San Francisco will be represented by Attorney John J. Lerman of San Francisco at the joint meeting of the assembly and senate committees on public morals called for the middle of the week to consider the proposed anti-bucketshop legislation before the legislature.

Lerman will be present to make sure that no provision is incorporated in the bill that will threaten the existence of legitimate brokers or interfere with the activities of commercial bodies, such as the exchange.

Chairman Hall of the senate committee on public morals and Chairman Cronin of the public morals committee of the assembly will probably attend the joint hearing, which is expected to take place Wednesday afternoon.

VACCINATION TIME FOR TRAMPS OF KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 13.—There are probably more clean left arms among the tramps in Kansas City today than there have been since the swimming season closed. Every tramp that could be located yesterday was vaccinated by order of Chief of Police Griffin. Ten physicians made trips to the cheap lodging houses and applied their needles to the arms of the tramps. Two policemen accompanied each physician. The majority of them made no protest.

DEEP CUT MADE IN APPROPRIATIONS

Senator Cullen Reports Out Awards to Be Made to Institutions.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Senator Cullen, chairman of the finance committee of the senate, reported out the appropriation of money for state institutions, carries one of the big burdens of the session, has reported out the awards that will be made to many of the hospitals and schools.

Because of the shortness of State funds this year, all bills for appropriations have been shaved deeper than usual and the finance committee is endeavoring to spread the state funds over as much needy territory as possible.

A fair basis for the computation of the proportion of financial awards that will be made by the legislature this year is given in the announcement of the appropriation bills which have so far been reported.

The amounts the finance committee has so far fixed are as follows:

- Whittier Reformatory School, $38,500.
- Veterans' Home at Youngville, $31,000.
- San Francisco Normal School, $11,000.
- Sanoma State Home, $65,000.
- Sanoma State Hospital, $98,115.
- Southern California Hospital, $105,000.
- San Jose Normal School, $85,000.
- Menlo Park State Hospital, $34,000.

HOW TO TRAIL SLAYERS OF FOUR

Reward for Murderers of Nevada Stockmen Mounts to $6000.

ALTURAS, Feb. 13.—Details of the murder of Harry Cambron, J. B. Lexague, Peter Erasmussen and B. Indiana, whose bodies were found near Denis, Nev., received here yesterday, show the tragedy to have been one of the most atrocious crimes in the history of the region. The men, all unarmed and intent on a peaceful mission at the sheep camps near Denis when they were shot down, stripped of clothing and valuables, and their bodies concealed by the murderers, who rode away on fine horses of the ranchers after shooting their own half-starved mounts.

The Sheriff of Washoe county came here at 5 o'clock yesterday morning to recruit a posse and take up the manhunt. The party set out immediately, leaving behind a company of well-mounted gunfighters, several Indian trailers and a pack of bloodhounds. Even without the dogs the Sheriff believes his Indians will put him within gunshot of the murderers that it is freely said they will never reach a jail even if taken alive. The victims, except Cambron, left families.

The bodies of the murdered men were taken to Eagleville Saturday and the funeral took place today.

$6000 REWARD.

RENO, Feb. 13.—Governor T. L. Oddie announced yesterday that tomorrow he would proclaim a reward of $6000 for the capture of the murderers of Harry Cambron, J. B. Lexague, Peter Erasmussen and B. Indiana, rich cattlemen, whose bodies were found Saturday in Little High Rock canyon, Washoe county, Nevada. The Centron Cattle Company also announces a reward of $1000.

HAPPY DAYS COMING; POVERTY TO DISAPPEAR

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13.—Dr. Jacob H. Hollander, professor of economics of the Johns Hopkins University, predicted in an address at the annual meeting of the Hebrew Benevolent Society, that a day will come when poverty will be as obsolete as slavery.

This opinion, he said, he based upon his historical studies and his personal investigation of charitable methods in Europe today. He insisted that the modern world is wrong in believing that poverty is inevitable, just as the ancient world has been proven wrong in assuming that slavery was inevitable.

The effort now being made to get at the causes of poverty, he said, is in the right direction and will lead to a solution of the whole problem.

OPPOSITION NEAR FOR EXPOSITION MEASURE

Southern Solons Demand Prevention of Discrimination Against Labor.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Unless the bill enabling the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to obtain the $5,000,000 from the state of California contains a clause that will prevent any discrimination against labor, the southern members of the assembly will go down the line against the bill.

The fight on this point of the bill has been in the air here for a week, but until the exposition measure passed both the house of representatives and the United States senate no open announcement of a contest was made.

Now, however, that the senate has passed the exposition measure, the advocates of the around shop policy in putting up the buildings to be erected with the $5,000,000 of state money are open in their statements that they will insist upon the no-discrimination amendments.

ENABLING MEASURE.

The enabling act drawn by Raymond Benjamin of the Attorney General's office and approved by Governor Johnson was introduced in the assembly by Nathan C. Coghlan of San Francisco and referred to the municipal corporations committee, of which he is the chairman. Senator Birdall introduced the bill in the upper house, and it was referred to the committee on Judiciary.

Or the members of the municipal corporations committee, Bishop, Benedict, Chandler, Lamb, Hinchey, Hamilton and Freeman are known to be in favor of the proposed amendment.

Chairman Coghlan, Schmitt and Walsh of San Francisco will work to have the bill reported to the assembly in its present form. Smith of Alameda and Major of Santa Cruz are the doubtful members, but the Southern California members believe Smith and Major will be for no discrimination.

HOTELMEN ON GUARD.

A heavy battalion of hotelkeeper lobbyists stationed in Sacramento yesterday entering its attack upon Senator Campbell's bill for fire protection in hostilities. The bill has passed the senate and is before the assembly.

According to the Campbell measure, every outside room in a hotel must be provided with a knotted rope that will reach to the top of the room.

Among those who appeared to contest the bill was James Woods of the St. Francis of San Francisco, who painted a picture of a hotel flying a red flag from each of its windows.

"Why we'd have to buy out a cordage factory to furnish those outside rooms with ropes," he said.

Woods also pleaded with his guests to slide down a rope from the fourteenth story. I guess most of them would stay in their rooms. The building is fireproof, but under the bill it would have to clutter up every room with a big coil of rope."

John Mitchell of the Hollenbeck and Charles Loomis of the Angels, Los Angeles, pleaded similar arguments for their houses, and under the burden of contrary argument Senator Campbell yielded and agreed to amend his bill.

It will now contain a provision that its requirements shall not be applied to hotels in incorporated cities where there is ample fire protection.

Senator Cassidy, author of the bill to rede the city of San Francisco all of its water front property now under the ownership and control of the state, says that he will ask the San Francisco delegation to act on the matter sometime today. It has already been referred to the delegation and as soon as it is reported back, his intention is to bring it to the legislative committee, to which the bills to rede their waterfront lands to Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego have been referred, so that all of the proposed grants may be acted on together.

GUNBOAT MARIETTA HAD NO YELLOW FEVER CASES

Warship Arrives at Brooklyn Yard and Officers Report Disease Was Malaria; Relate Honduran Episodes

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The gunboat Marietta, which while on station at Calhu, Honduras, last month, was reported with yellow fever aboard, has arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard from Key West, with all hands well. It was shown on the ship's arrival at Key West that the suspected cases in her crew were not yellow fever, but malaria, and that Coxswain J. B. Miner, who died while she was off Honduras, also had malaria fever.

Army officials ordered the Marietta here, so that the New York climate might give the malarial germ, their freezing stroke. The story of the seizure of the revolutionary gunboat Hornet by the commander of the Marietta is told by Ensign Edw. H. Loftin, who is in charge of the Marietta at her Brooklyn anchorage, is as follows:

NO ARMS ON BOARD.

"There were no arms on board the Hornet when she reached the harbor of Truxillo, but there was a big load on board a schooner that preceded her, and General Christmas was on board the schooner, whose decks were swarming with men. The Hornet's papers were not satisfactory to Commander Cooper of the Marietta, so the Hornet was placed under surveillance at once. Our orders were not to allow the Hornet to commit any hostile act.

"When our captain told General Bonilla that the Hornet was under our eyes, he did not take the situation very graciously but agreed that he would stop hostilities four days awaiting word from the United States.

"Commander Cooper decided that he would put five men and an officer on board to watch affairs. The five men applied some white paint and climbed up the brass work and the appearance of the Hornet was improved about 100 percent.

"We had a good chance to see General Christmas and his followers and he made a profound impression on all. There seemed to be a large white population on the island of Utila, twenty-eight miles northeast from Puerto Cortes, who were ready to fight on the Bonilla side. These men said they were direct descendants of the buccaners of the Spanish Main.

"Our action in relation to the Hornet was not very palatable to General Bonilla, so after the battle of Celba, when there were hundreds badly wounded and we sent our hospital corps on shore and were ministering to the wants of the wounded, he coldly informed us he did not require our medical aid.

SAW GUERRERO KILLED.

"We saw General Guerrero killed at this battle on January 25. From the deck of the Marietta I saw him ride into certain death, although he did not seem to know it. They fought us with 200 other and 200 men on the shore, and General Guerrero, riding a donkey, came out and attempted to drive back into the trenches men he believed were his men who were leaving.

"The fight was fast and furious and with a revolver in one hand, he was commanding the men who were advancing to go back, not knowing that the trench was occupied by the enemy. The general was shot and fell toward the trench. When he was recognized some one yelled 'Guerrero' and that was enough.

"Fifty rifles were fired at once. I don't know how many shots took effect. He nearly fell from his mount, but managed to keep on toward the British consulate. There he toppled over, dying in front of the consulate.

Abraham Lincoln.

The memory of Abraham Lincoln's services to mankind and his country are not perpetuated by celebrations and holidays in his honor. His work is his monument. He will survive in the hearts of millions of yet unborn because he perpetuated the republic and cut the cancer of slavery from the body politic. Lincoln was the first man to discern and announce the great truth that this nation could not exist half slave and half free. The condition produced, as William H. Seward said, was an irrepressible conflict. Lincoln was elected President when the conflict had reached such a stage that the country was on the eve of dividing. He was determined to hold the country together, well knowing that the logic of circumstance and civilization would ultimately compel the abolition of slavery. He held the country together by efforts and sacrifices which are not yet fully understood. During the struggle for the preservation the cause of the quarrel perished, but Lincoln gave his life as the crowning sacrifice. He not only saved the Union, but he planted it on new and firmer ground and rededicated it to human liberty. His sad figure typifies and epitomizes the sorrows, travails and sufferings through which his country passed. The descendant of poor whites—the disinherited of the South—he became the instrument which providence used to broaden the charter of human liberty and lay anew the foundations of a government by the people, for the people and of the people.

Are the Democrats in the Legislature trying to make themselves ridiculous or the recall absurd by proposing to "recall" Hon. John D. Works, who has just been elected United States Senator? The Legislature has no jurisdiction in the premises. Judge Works has been elected to the Federal Senate in the manner prescribed by the national constitution. There and then the jurisdiction of the Legislature ended. Its functions and authority ceased. That it should be proposed seriously to call Senator-elect Works to account for expressing the opinion that the proposed recall of judges is unwise does not seem possible. Such a proposition is futile and foolish. Why, then, was it made? What is the meaning of this horse-play? Surely men of the intelligence, experience and knowledge of the law possessed by Senators Caminetti and Curtin cannot imagine for a moment that the Legislature has any power to recall Judge Works or even to discipline him for expressing views that it is the common right of every citizen to hold. The whole matter is absurd of course, but it makes California ridiculous in the eyes of the world.

Raid on Oakland's Commercial Growth.

It may be necessary for Oakland to take some drastic action to put a stop to the course which unfriendly outside interests are persistently pursuing to block its progress and belittle its importance abroad. Every move that has been made so far, save in the single instance of the Wolfe bill amending the constitution to make the way easy for the absorption of Oakland and its revenue-producing commercial properties and their revenues by San Francisco and the saddling upon this and other towns and cities of a large proportion of San Francisco's enormous bonded indebtedness, has been made under cover. The sponsor of the Wolfe bill "let the cat out of the bag" as to its purpose when he publicly admitted that it was intended to arrest Oakland's commercial growth and prevent competition between this city's improved water front and that of San Francisco.

The latest move from these unfriendly interests is to destroy Oakland as a support, through the reduction and degradation of what, it plans to be left, of the custom-house force employed in the collection of customs dues on cargoes delivered at Oakland wharves. Special agents of the Treasury Department at Washington have been used as catspaws to accomplish this result. Indeed, these agents have gone so far as to recommend that the Treasury Department abolish the support. Fortunately that extreme measure is beyond the power of the department, if it were attempted. The support has been created by act of Congress and Congress only has the power to abolish it.

Since the support was created Oakland has been systematically robbed by San Francisco of its foreign commerce by entering nearly all dutiable cargoes landed on Oakland's wharves at the San Francisco custom-house instead of at the custom-house in this city. This fact has been clearly proved by a statement which Congressman Knowland recently obtained from Port Collector Stratton showing the amount of dutiable foreign merchandise consigned to Oakland and discharged at its wharves which was entered in the San Francisco custom-house and the duties on which were paid there and were incorporated in San Francisco's customs and port statistics, instead of being entered and paid in Oakland's custom-house and credited to Oakland's commerce. The statement was instructive and suggestive, as it showed on the face of it the palpable fraud committed to swell San Francisco's commercial importance and belittle Oakland's.

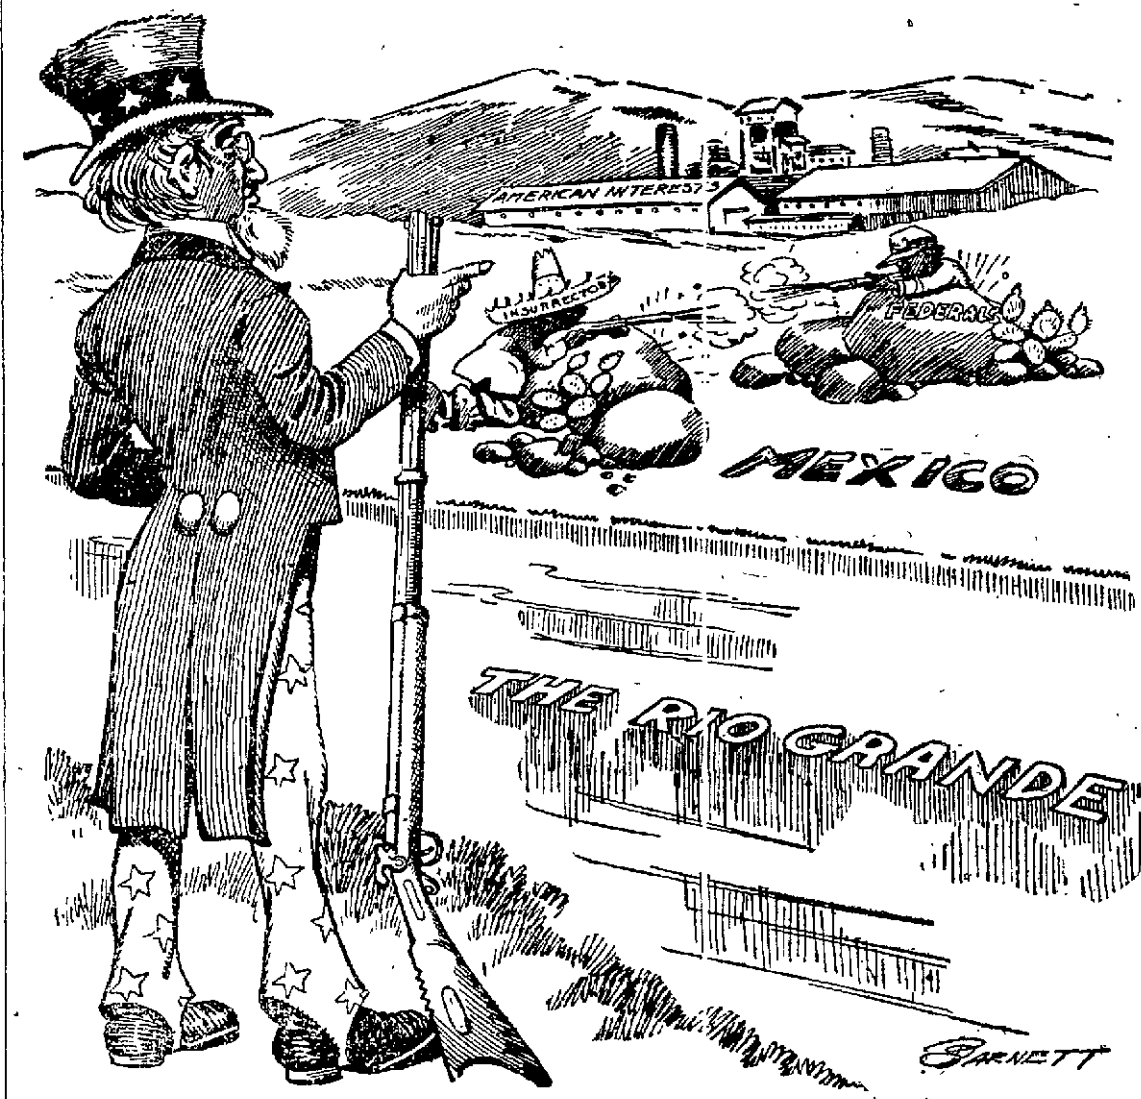

Of course, the purpose of the new unfriendly move started against Oakland's standing as a support is plain. When Oakland's new wharves on the southern and western water fronts are ready for business, deep sea ships from foreign ports will come direct into Oakland harbor. Oakland's commerce will then be of such importance that it will be impossible by trick or subterfuge to conceal it. Of necessity Oakland will claim the rights of being created by Congress as an independent port of entry, a custom-house erected here for the entry of all ships from foreign ports and the duties on their cargoes paid here. And a showing will be made which Congress will then undoubtedly respect. The move against this support is now being made to anticipate that situation and prevent it. Oakland's commercial bodies are wideawake as to the purpose of the scheme and have properly taken the initiative to block it.

Speaker Cannon Opposes Reciprocity.

In a letter to a member of the Illinois State Legislature Speaker Cannon announces his opposition to reciprocity with Canada. He does not say he will fight the proposition in Congress, but his language carries that impression. He bases his objection on the admission from Canada of agricultural products free of duty. He says: "That proposed agreement provides substantially for free trade between Canada and the United States in agricultural products. In addition it includes wheat, barley, corn, potatoes, dairy products, eggs, poultry, etc., cattle, hogs and other animals on the hoof."

The United States is a heavy exporter of wheat, corn, hogs and cattle. Canada does not produce corn for export. It is not conceivable that the admission of eggs, poultry and dairy products free of duty can seriously injure American agriculture. If reciprocity will make these articles of prime necessity cheaper and more abundant in the large industrial centers along the northern border a great benefit will be conferred on the poorer classes. Nor can we think it will injuriously affect the interests of American farmers.

"I Don't Like to Interfere, but I Must Look After My Interests"

The main argument against reciprocity with Canada is that it lays the ax at the root of the protective system. The advantage of the arrangement is with the Canadian farmer and the American manufacturer. It deprives the Republican party of its strongest argument in behalf of protection. It may well be asked why should the agricultural products of California be protected if the agricultural products of the northern tier of States are left unprotected. If free trade with Canada why not free trade with Mexico? Reciprocity with Canada is an entering wedge which may disrupt the community of interests that have thus far stood in defense of tariff laws devised to protect American commerce and labor from injurious foreign competition. Reciprocity with other countries may deprive the producer of sugar, rice and citrus fruits of the protection they now enjoy. Those who are now deprived of protection may demand that all others be deprived of it. That is the danger.

Nevertheless the reciprocity agreement with Canada, looked at apart, is a good thing. It will help a great deal and not hurt much. It is the general effect on the protective system that is to be feared. The specific objections urged by Speaker Cannon are not of much force. They appeal to imaginary fears rather than present substantial arguments against the agreement.

Removal of Oakland's Garbage.

The right of the State Legislature to prevent Oakland and the castaway shore cities from disposing of their garbage by towing the same to sea and dumping it there in deep water outside of the league limit over which the State has jurisdiction is open to challenge. But a bill has, nevertheless, been introduced in the Assembly to prevent, if possible, that sanitary and inoffensive method of disposing of the garbage of Oakland and Berkeley. The Legislature might have the right to provide that no city shall discharge its sewage and refuse into the waters of the State. Such a drastic law would, however, make it impossible for all cities located on the banks of fresh water streams, or the bays or shoreline of the State to get rid of their sewage. Nor would the State Harbor Commission be permitted to dump the dredgings from the San Francisco docks which that city's sewers are constantly shoaling into the stream in mid-bay, as has always been the practice. It goes without saying that the exercise of the right which the State possesses in regard to State waters, in this respect, will not in the time of this or possibly an future generation be attempted. But the attempt to extend the jurisdiction of the State to the open sea is simply ridiculous. And yet that is the manifest intent of the bill which has been introduced in the Assembly to make the loading of vessels with garbage and towing them to sea outside the three-mile limit to be discharged. The fact is totally ignored that such disposition of a city's garbage is the most sanitary that can be adopted for the reason that salt water is the most perfect antiseptic nature has provided.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

By REV. C. D. YOAUM, Pastor Park Congregational Church of Berkeley.

"He said, surely they are my people; children that will not deal falsely: so He was their savior."—Isa. 63:8.

G. W. YOAUM.

One element of Lincoln's greatness was his simple faith. He believed in God and he believed in men; so he was able to do business with both. Because he said to himself, "They are my people, children that will not deal falsely," he was able to be their savior.

Lincoln was a leader because he went before his people. He entered their distress; he foresaw their needs; he blazed a path in a moral wilderness for their thirteenth virtues. Almost before the nation knew its own purpose, while yet it wrestled with the angel of its better self in the darkness, it was following Lincoln toward victory and the dawn.

That is leadership—leadership heaven-high above all political compromise and scheming. You can betray men by knowing their weaknesses, you can dominate them by knowing their passions, but you can lead them only by knowing what, in their innermost hearts they aspire to. Lincoln became the savior of his country just as Jesus became the Savior of the world, by believing in and appealing to the divine spirit that is in all men.

Lincoln was acquainted with God. Like Enoch, he walked with God as with a companion and friend. The question is sometimes raised whether Lincoln ever made a saving confession of Jesus Christ. One cannot easily imagine Lincoln concerning himself about that. He bore the cross, whether he acknowledged it or not. Like Jesus, he was wounded for our transgressions and bruised for our iniquities, scarcely ever pausing to see the travail of his soul. Let us not stumple over the letter of our Christianity, missing his precious spirit. John says, "He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is no occasion of stumbling in him." We think of Lincoln, confession or no confession, as having attained, by loving his brothers, very close to the foot of God.

Heaven has been very generous with us in America also we have achieved much for ourselves by which we and our children may be blessed. Yet we have not a treasure to be compared with the remembrance of this personality. He stood on the highest principles of democracy and found them solid; he reached up to the noblest hopes of our religion and found them true. He sanctified the common things by which men live, and gave us common men a hope which will not be forgotten until we have found in ourselves that divinity which crowns every man a king.

When Lord Thurlow first opened a lawyer's office in London he took a basement room which had previously been occupied by a cobbler. He was somewhat annoyed and irritated by the fact that he had few of his own. One day an Irishman entered.

"The cobbler's gone, I see," he said. "I should think he had," tartly responded the lawyer.

"And what do ye sell?" Inquired the Irishman, looking at the solitary table and a few books.

"Books," responded Thurlow. "Bogers," said Pat, "ye must be doing a mighty fine business; ye ain't got but one left."—Barnesville Republican.

From a life of hardship and danger among the Indian tribes of South Dakota to the position of adjutant of claims in the office of Indian affairs of the Department of the Interior is the unique life history of Mrs. M. L. Baldwin, granddaughter of a chief of the Chippewa Indians and relative of many of the famous Indian warriors of the west. Until she was 24 years old Mrs. Baldwin spent only in an Indian tepee or in the open air. Now she adjusts claims between members of her race and the United States government. Many times when she was a girl she saw members of her family shot and scalped, and one of her most vivid memories is of seeing her own brother tortured and slowly cut to pieces before her eyes. From the shelter of sand pits she, in company with other women and girls of her tribe, often watched their brave fight Indians of other tribes and soldiers of the United States. Mrs. Baldwin's mother was a pure Chippewa Indian and her father a French Huguenot. Her grandfather formerly lived at Osseo, N. D., and led the famous Clark expedition through the wilds of the North west. He also served as scout for many excursions of government troops. He was one of the most famous chiefs of the tribe. Her father later moved to Minneapolis, where he was made a judge advocate. He is now attorney in Washington for the Turtle Mountain band of the Chippewas. Mrs. Baldwin has held her present position for the last five years.—Washington Post.

American tailors announce by way of Chicago—save the market—that beginning in the spring men are to wear corset coats and light trousers. Only the thin man "will be do rigueur, and those who are not thin enough must wear corsets or other improvers to give the appearance of a bean-pole."

Right here, in all solemnity, we utter our protest against any such innovation. Tailors may propose, but man disposes of his own sartorial future. It is quite true that women are slaves to fashion and are happy in wearing the most absurd monstrosities either on their heads or their bodies, so long as that mysterious institution knows as "the latest style" dictates that it shall be done. Just why women should like to make themselves hideous belongs to the realm of psychology. If woman will, she will, you may depend on it, even to wearing clothes in which she can neither walk nor breathe with comfort.

But man, poor man, has at least something of the spirit of '76 left in his blood.

An organization of Chicago women has set out to lessen the nuisance of promiscuous spitting. Dr. W. A. Evans, the Health Commissioner, has found his support to the crusade, which is being prosecuted by means of tags. Each member of the organization has been provided with a supply of cards which she is supposed to hand to persons found expectorating in public places. The tags read: "In the interests of health, cleanliness and the law, you are earnestly requested to co-operate in enforcing the reasonable and sanitary regulation embodied in the city ordinance No. 1493: 'Spitting is prohibited upon sidewalks, in public conveniences, theaters, clubs, assembly rooms, public buildings or buildings assembled together, and in similar places.'"

Greenlife, Ill., has a Scotch collie which which many of the residents of that place think should be decorated with a Carnegie hero medal. Skating on thin ice, eight-year-old Francis Cox broke through, and his calls for help were heard only by the dog. He plunged into the pond, got a hold on the boy's coat, loved him ashore and then summoned farther aid. When the lad had been cared for his father offered a large sum for the dog, but he was not for sale.

Civilization has its foes, but they are not going to be banished by wholesale condemnation of any particular condition, nor will our welfare be insured through the inauguration of any one innovation as a general means of reform for every ill. Women are going to have the ballot one of these days, but if there is no other force in the life of the world at that time, civilization may find it hard sledding then, too.—Springfield, (Mo.) Republican.

Sylvia Pankhurst is a nice little lady, all right, but we are more than ever convinced that Sylvia doesn't know everything. She hits the nail on the head quite frequently, and with a resounding whack, but Sylvia isn't yet able to keep from occasionally getting a "burn" over. When Sylvia told the Iowa legislature the other day that "unless we soon vote our civilization may pass away," she showed that whoever made her believe this had slipped one over on a certain English woman with suffrage tendencies. Civilization doesn't depend upon universal suffrage as you talk it, Sylvia. Everybody has a voice in affairs in Timbuctoo, Sylvia, but there is also a dearth of napkins and bath robes. Civilization took a great preliminary part in affairs of state, but the brand of civilization she represented would have snuffed a Pittsburgh steel magnate. Catherine II of Russia knew a thing or two about politics, and her private graveyard was a thing to scare preachers by its condemnation fits. And there are other cases a-plenty, Sylvia, to show that a woman's being allowed to help in the government doesn't necessarily result in everybody getting a chance to get paid with a fork and carry engraved calling-cards.

We have a notion that universal suffrage might be about as bad a thing as any nation could well experience. For male and female intelligent and otherwise, law-abiding and vicious, native and alien—for all these to be made equal in the directing of public affairs would not, we fancy, increase the standing of the people who tried the experiment.

SKIN DISEASES

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

Nature has made ample provision in the moisture and sunshine of the air for the outward protection and healthy condition of the skin. But the more important work of nourishing the cuticle has been left to an inward source—the blood. It is from the circulation that the pores and glands receive their stimulus, and the fibrous tissues are all preserved in a healthful state because of constant nutriment supplied by the blood. It is only when the circulation becomes infected with humors or acids that we are troubled with skin affections. The humors producing these troubles are carried through the circulation direct to the skin, and their irritating or inflammatory effect remains until the blood is cleansed. S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases, because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation and

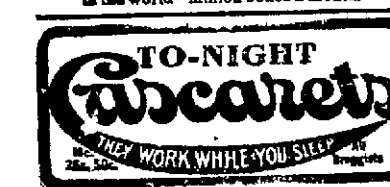

SSS

REMOVES the acids and humors which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, rashes, and all eruptions of the skin. When S. S. S. has driven out the humors every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with cooling, healthful blood, natural evaporation is renewed, and the skin becomes soft and smooth. MME. VALLECITA SMILES AS LEOPARDS SNARL AT ORPHEUM

DOLORES VALLECITA, who puts leopards through their paces at the Orpheum.

(By LEO LEVY.) Of course, if none but the brave deserved to be headliners, countless numbers of vaudeville performers who are plucky enough to display their ignorance of the art of managing folks, would be touted in red letters on the billboards. Mme. Vallecita wins the honor with a smile. With five snarling leopards around her she is enacting a scene, smiling when the audience voices appreciation, smiling when the overgrown fellows do their work well, and smiling when one of them makes a vicious lunge at her. She smiles, in fact, from the time she enters the great cage until the orchestra crashes out a finale. Which is why Mme. Vallecita deserves honorable mention at the head of any review.

The leopards do many and varied stunts, even playing a ball accompanied by Mme. Vallecita's piano selection. There are thrills enough and laughs in plenty to make them, which go to make the act one of the best the Orpheum has brought out in a long time.

JOKERS MAKE IT HOT FOR GROOM-TO-BE. CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Clark T. Ross would like to locate the author of the following advertisement, which appeared recently:

PERSONAL.—Am now in position financially to meet all my creditors. Kindly communicate with me, Clark T. Ross, 633 Brier Place, Telephone Grace 3588.

Ross is to be married Wednesday to Miss Pearl Lindig, a wealthy young woman from Chicago, and friends who formerly lived in Chicago, and friends with a supposed sense of humor are held responsible for the advertisement.

"Isn't the money, it's the girl I am marrying," Ross indignantly asserted. "Anyhow, I haven't any creditors, and the fellows who fixed up that thing merely were trying to be sarcastic. I think I know who they are and I will fix them for it."

Clark was compelled to stay at home and answer telephone jokes of his friends all day yesterday.

Miss Lindig is a sister of Mrs. J. Mack Love of Whittier, Cal., widow of the late "Jeff" Clark, whose second wedding was announced to Chicago friends recently.

BLIND BOY SEES, AND HEALER TAKES CREDIT. NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Mary E. Chapin, the attractive Boston clubwoman who never left the Berkeley Theater to a fashionable audience upon "An Bagger Health," announced yesterday afternoon that she had just effected the healing of a blind youth, Albert Kane of Batavia, N. Y., within three days by the application of the "New thought."

She said that she treated the boy by silent treatment and did not see him until he, accompanied by his sister, called upon her.

"He was taken to his home at Batavia last Saturday so completely cured that he wrote me a four-page letter of thanks before leaving," said Mrs. Chapin.

ESCAPE FROM JAIL WITH BUTTERHOOK

Two Prisoners Take French Leave From Sacramento's Brick Prison.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—By means of a button hook two prisoners in the city jail tore a hole through a 20-inch brick wall large enough for them to crawl through, and made their escape at noon yesterday. One of the prisoners was Harry Smith, a negro known as the "Musical Burglar," and the other was G. R. Henry, who was held as a suspected accomplice in robberies charged to his partner, Harry Jackson, alias Weeks.

The men were removed from an inner tank during its fumigation at 10 o'clock this morning to an old cell whose outer wall is also the outside cell wall of the unguarded and unlighted prison.

They found a steel buttonhook, presumably left by a former woman occupant of the cell, and then cut away the mortar, removed about thirty bricks, one by one, and piled them up in a corner of an "L" wing of the cell, out of sight of the guards.

HOLE IN SIGHT. The hole was in plain sight of the cell window, but when the brick was removed, the prisoners played cards on a spot and kept the aperture from being seen.

When they escaped into the adjoining railroad yard, they saw a third prisoner who refused to take the chance for liberty, yielded to Sergeant Elgin and Patrolman Max Fisher, who answered the call, and when they discovered the escape of the two prisoners an alarm was given.

Detectives Higgins and Ryan were dispatched to scour the country around the Sacramento river. Detective Kramer and Patrolmen Bagley and Murphy searched the roads on the Sacramento side of the river.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 13.—Dr. Fred Schumacher and Richard F. Moody, popular local clubmen and sportsmen, were lost last night on the marshes in the region of Alviso. No trace had been found at midnight.

Dr. Schumacher, a dentist and expert rifle shot, and "Dick" Moody, proprietor of a large dyeing establishment, went out soon after 8 o'clock and camped in a few blocks away from the city, and the audience sees them both at work. Neff dove stage and Miss Starr apparently in the window of central station. A clever arrangement of lights and a "drip" do the work.

LIVE FAMOUS PICTURES. Maxine's models, who live some of the most familiar of the world's great paintings, are appreciated by an audience that sometimes dodges art in the strenuous search for amusement. The act is one of beauty, and worth the applause it gets.

Ernest Scharf, who plays on more instruments than you see in a full band, and Hugh Lloyd, who maintains his balance on a slack-rope without the aid of anything save his hands, are here for a return engagement. The Victoria, Four and Borani and Navarro remain for another week.

Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis. It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away to a sanatorium is not only tremendous expense, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are neglected, but none can safely return. Jackson's Alternative is effective in leaving home. For example, a very severe cold which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise spittle and my physician then told me I must get to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Jackson's Alternative. I stayed at home and took it. I began to improve, and the first week I was able to get out. My regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now five years since I was cured. Jackson's Alternative is not only a cure for tuberculosis, but it is a cure for all lung diseases. Ask for it at the nearest drug store. Ask for it at the nearest drug store. ATTORNEY BUDD NEAR DEATH IN BATHTUB. STOCKTON, Feb. 13.—John E. Budd, an attorney of this city, former regent of the state university and brother of the late Governor James M. Budd, was asphyxiated while taking a bath at his home last night. Timely discovery of Budd's unconscious form and prompt treatment by Dr. C. L. Six saved his life.

In preparing for his bath, thinking the stove was lit, thoughtlessly turned on the gas jet of the heater. Enough gas escaped while he was in the bathtub to render him unconscious.

The family became alarmed at his absence and, upon investigation, found him.

GOLD DUST IS PAY-DIRT FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Gold Dust is to the housewife what "Pay-dirt" is to the miner. Read the unsolicited testimonial which Stewart Edward White recently gave Gold Dust in his book "The Mountains," Page 181:

"Even if you do not intend to wash dishes, 'bring along some Gold Dust.' It is much simpler in getting at odd corners of ob-stinate kettles than any soap. All you have to do is to boil some of it in that kettle and the utensil is tamed at once."

When a work-dodging man has to wash dishes you may be sure he is going to find "the easiest way." Mr. White evidently found it in the use of Gold Dust. More than a million housewives agree with him; you will if you once try Gold Dust.

Gold Dust cleans everything—road directions on the package for a full list of its accomplishments.

Use Gold Dust for washing clothes and dishes, scrubbing floors, cleaning woodwork, oil-cloth, silverware and tinware, polishing brasswork, cleaning bathroom pipes, refrigerators, etc., softening hard water and making the finest soft soap.

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia, or Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form. The Gold Dust Twins need no outside help.

RECIPROCITY WOMAN HELD MEASURE IS TAKEN UP ON MURDER CHARGE

Lower House Considers Bill After Decisive Vote of 195 to 121.

Ballot Is Taken to Indicate Final Outcome of the Canada Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The house, by a vote of 195 to 121, decided today to begin immediate consideration of the McCall bill carrying out the reciprocity agreement with Canada. No agreement has been reported as to the limit of debate, but the bill may be passed today.

While the vote to displace the regular order for today on the house calendar and take up reciprocity cannot be accepted as an exact indication of the final vote on the bill, it is regarded as being approximately so.

CAME FROM REPUBLICANS.

The vote against taking up the measure today came almost wholly from the Republican side. The Democrats voted almost solidly for immediate consideration. Some of the Republicans, who voted against displacing the regular order are not expected to place themselves on record against reciprocity in the final vote.

At 2:30 o'clock it was stated that no attempt would be made to get the measure to a vote today.

Mrs. Ola Meacham Must Answer for Death of Her Husband.

First Charge Made by Dying Man May Stand in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Refusing to be comforted, Ola Meacham, wife of George Meacham, a bartender who died at the Hahnemann hospital, early yesterday morning, was restless about her case and almost on the verge of nervous prostration.

The young woman is charged with murder, despite the fact that on his death bed Meacham declared that she did not stab him, as was at first alleged.

The affair occurred last Wednesday night. Following a quarrel in the apartment of the couple at the Gladstone on Polk street, Meacham was found unconscious.

ACCUSES WIFE.

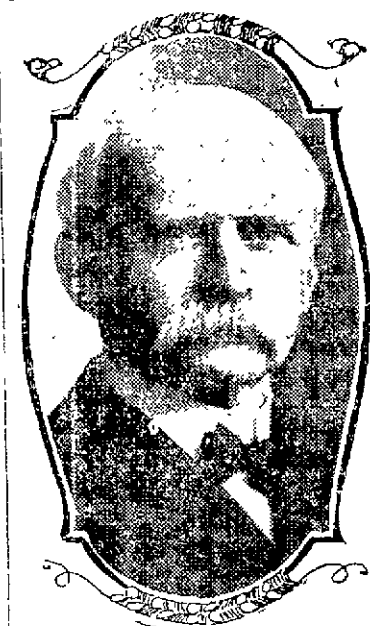

Later he revived, accused his wife of stabbing him, and she was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Saturday morning the case was dismissed by Judge Deane on the amended statement by Meacham that he had stabbed the woman himself.

When it was known he was going to die late Saturday night a bond and warrant clerk was summoned, but he refused the statement that he had stabbed her. She was at a bedside and held him in her arms a short time later as he died.

Detectives Egan and Cadden on orders from headquarters took her into custody.

MANY CANDIDATES ARE IN FIELD FOR ELECTION TO SCHOOL BOARD

J. W. EVANS, candidate for school board membership.

OAKLANDERS DECLARE STAND

F. B. Cook of 1284 Twenty-third avenue, a member of the board of education, has announced his candidacy for the office of school director No. 6 under the new charter, thus making four of the present board to so declare themselves, the others being Dr. A. S. Kelly, No. 1, Leo R. Weil No. 2, and C. M. Orr, No. 3.

Cook has been a resident of Alameda county for the last eight years and a resident of Oakland for two years. As a resident of Alameda he was one of the first directors of Fremont high school. At present he is serving his second term on the board of education, and is chairman of the committee on furniture and supplies.

He has declared himself in favor of the various improvements that have been contemplated by the board and by the city through the proposed bond election and has always stood for advancement in the affairs of the school department.

EVANS IN FIELD.

J. W. Evans, for many years a resident of Oakland, has also announced his candidacy for a position on the board of directors of the public schools.

Evans has served several terms on the board of school directors; previously, his services reaching over a period of twelve years in the aggregate. During his late term he was instrumental in bringing about a better method of closing public school teachers than the one formerly in force. Since that time elections have been held a more or less on the influence which could be brought to bear by the various candidates.

Evans says that if elected to the office for this term he will endeavor in the future as he has done in the past, to give the best service of which he is capable.

F. B. COOK, who aspires to be a member of the next school board.

PRODUCE DEALERS FIGHT LEGISLATION

Declare Proposed Cold Storage Law Is Unjust and Impossible.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—The produce dealers of Los Angeles are vigorously opposing the cold storage legislation which provides that all eggs and butter placed in storage more than 30 days must be so labeled in black face letters two inches high, and that the product must be withdrawn from storage within the same time in which they were stored.

These provisions are denounced as unjust and impracticable by the produce men, who are sending a representative to Sacramento to fight the enactment of the bills. They say high prices to the consumer would result if these measures were enacted into law.

BIG WATER MAIN CAUSES DAMAGE

Stones Rain Down When Pipe Breaks; Planing Mill Damaged.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last night one of the 24-inch mains of the Peoples Water Company, which runs along Fourteenth avenue, popularly known as the "Valley," burst at the corner of East Twelfth street and three stones and gravel to the height of thirty feet. No one was near at the time, but many of the large stones fell against the side of the East Oakland Planing Mill and shattered all the windows.

OTHERS ARE OUT.

A. L. Hannaford of 2102 West street, who will be a candidate at the primaries for director No. 4, has been president of the board for four years, serving the last two years as president. For many years he was chief deputy in the office of former City Auditor Bruce Orr.

TURNER DENOUNCES DEMANDS OF MILLER

An attack upon the fee system in the city engineer's office, and a demand for compensation amounting to $283.33 for work ordered by the city on waterfront board plans, which is contained in a letter to City Engineer F. C. Turner from M. K. Miller, a civil engineer who has entered the race for the mayorship, has been taken to the Central Emergency hospital, and a desperate effort made to save his life, which proved unavailing.

MAN WHO SLASHED HIS THROAT FINALLY DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—Hugh McMillan, who cut his throat several days ago, died this morning at the city and county hospital. He had been in a precarious condition ever since he was first taken to the Central Emergency hospital, and a desperate effort made to save his life, which proved unavailing.

$1,000,000 IS OLD RESIDENT NEEDED FOR RELIEF JAILED FOR MURDER

2,500,000 People on Verge of Starvation in Single Province in China.

Citizens of Seattle Subscribe $50,000 to the General Relief Fund.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions has received from its missionaries in the province of Anhui China, an account of the famine conditions prevailing there. The missionaries declare that at least a million dollars will be needed to tide the suffering provinces over the next harvest time. Crop conditions are so bad, they add, that it will take the district several years to get back to normal conditions in the flooded districts.

INTERESTED IN MINES.

McAdams, who is about 40 years old, is interested in mines in Alaska, and a few months ago young Culpch accompanied him on a trip to his mining property there. Either before or after their return McAdams began to suspect that the relations between Culpch and his wife were not what they should be.

BROKE INTO THE ROOM.

Before going down town he had taken a pistol that belonged to his father-in-law, Oliver Wyatt, who lived with them. Reaching the house, he took off his shoes, and slipping into Wyatt's room, he opened the door to get a lamp. He then broke into his wife's room, where he found her and Culpch. He opened fire and killed them both.

HODGHEAD INTERESTED IN THE WOLFE BILL

BERKELEY, Feb. 13.—Mayor Hodghead is to go to Sacramento Wednesday, when the Wolfe consolidation bill, in the interest of San Francisco, is to come up again. The mayor is opposed to the bill in its present form, which will not permit of Berkeley forming a city and county of its own. With Arthur Elston and Max Thelen, as the other members of a committee on city and county consolidation, appointed by him, Mayor Hodghead is endeavoring to have the Wolfe bill amended so as to enable cities of 40,000 inhabitants to form a city and county government.

ACCUSED DIAMOND THIEF CAPTURED

Aaron C. Rehfeld in Toils at Winnipeg; Worked in Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—A circular sent broadcast by the San Francisco Police Department last July asking for the apprehension of Aaron C. Rehfeld, traveling salesman for Edward H. Forester, a diamond importer in the Jewellers' building on Post street, has resulted in his capture, according to telegraphic advice received last night by the police, telling of the arrest of the accused jewel thief in Winnipeg, Canada. Rehfeld left Forester on July 7, 1910, with diamonds aggregating $20,000 in value, ostensibly to open a pawnshop in Bakersfield.

Rehfeld has not been heard from since and although Detectives John Sullivan and Louis Diollette worked unceasingly on the case, no trace of the salesman could be found.

Forester postponed swearing out a warrant for the arrest of his employee until July 25, when he appeared before Judge Conlan and secured the instrument charging embezzlement. The theft of the diamonds created a big sensation in business circles and every effort to locate Rehfeld was made by the diamond firm.

Rehfeld is about 24 years of age and before the fire worked in a jewelry store at Commercial and Kearny streets. Before that he was employed in the California Loan Office, located at 227 Broadway, Oakland.

After the embezzlement the local Police Department secured a picture of Rehfeld and printed it with a circular which was sent to every city in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

PLAN SUBSTITUTE FRANCHISE SCHEME

Friends of S. P. Hope to Win Over One of Hold-Outs by Compromise.

As a substitute for what are considered the obstructive demands of the Southern Pacific Railroad to obtain a right of way for the period of fifty years, as four councilmen have pledged themselves never to vote for such a grant, and it requires eight of eleven councilmen to pass a franchise ordinance. It is hoped, however, that at least one of the men who have fought against the fifty-year grant may be won over to a reasonable proposition on a thirty-five-year plan.

The city council adjourned at the last meeting to meet tonight, but as today is a legal holiday no business may be transacted and it is understood the council will adjourn until tomorrow night. The railroad matter is the only subject scheduled.

LEGAL HOLIDAY.

The city council adjourned at the last meeting to meet tonight, but as today is a legal holiday no business may be transacted and it is understood the council will adjourn until tomorrow night. The railroad matter is the only subject scheduled.

RESPONSE EXPECTED.

Attorney Jere T. Burke was asked to communicate with the Eastern heads of the corporation to find whether the company would, on reasonable terms, accept a thirty-five-year grant, and will respond with the word from the Southern Pacific officials. It is thought that at that time a counter proposal will be made by the men who have been making to treat with the railroad, a proposal so reasonable that it may win over one of the hold-outs.

NATIONAL FOREST REDUCED IN AREA

President's Proclamation Eliminates 33,526 Acres From Kern District.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The president has signed a proclamation eliminating 33,526 acres from the Kern National Forest. These changes are the result of a careful field examination made by the United States Department of Agriculture in pursuance of a general plan for the correction of all national forest boundaries.

Overcoat Saves Man From Death Under S. P. Local

BERKELEY, Feb. 13.—The entanglement of his overcoat in the gate of a Southern Pacific local train at Berkeley station was all that saved the life of Frank Mothersole, of 385 Fifty-third street, Oakland, yesterday afternoon.

He started to swing beard the 4:47 southbound train just as it started to leave the station. His momentum would have carried him between the platforms and beneath the wheels but for the fortunate catching of his coat in the gate. As it was, he received severe abrasions of the head and scalp and lacerations of the right wrist and hand by coming into forcible contact with the ironwork on one of the platforms. He was treated at Roosevelt hospital.

SACRAMENTO WILL BE THE TERMINAL

Burlington Railroad Will Tap City Within Next Two or Three Years.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 12.—Within the next two or three years, unless something unforeseen should occur to disturb the confidence of the railroad world in the future, Sacramento will have another trans-continental line of railroad. This fact became known yesterday when C. O. Barnham, vice-president of the Burlington system, in charge of traffic, spent a few hours in this city.

He did not hesitate to declare that it was only a question of a few years before the line which James J. Hill is building down the Des Chutes river, in Oregon, would come through Sacramento on its way to San Francisco.

H. M. Adams, freight traffic manager of the Western Pacific road, expressed the same opinion, and both he and Mr. Barnham gave it as their view that the new road would use the Western Pacific tracks from Oroville to Sacramento, and from such time as the business of the new road would warrant its own terminals here and its own tracks between Oroville and Sacramento.

G. O. P. FOUNDER IS LAID TO REST

Stephen G. Clark Buried at Alameda; Had Eventful Life.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 12.—At his own request, funeral services for Stephen G. Clark, one of the founders of the present Republican party and chairman of the first county committee that the Republican party in New York City organized, were held today on the one hundredth anniversary of Abraham Lincoln, whom he studied closely and followed above all the statesmen of the country.

Clark was 95 years of age. He died yesterday. When he realized that death was upon him he asked that he be buried, if possible, on Lincoln's birthday.

Clark is survived by three children, Mrs. J. W. Clark, Calvin J. Clark and Adeline M. Clark. His funeral services were conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Willie M. Martin of the First Methodist church from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rev. 2306 Alameda avenue.

Clark was a millwright and had built many of the first derricks of the Standard Oil Company in Pennsylvania.

PATROLMEN FIGHT TO END DISPUTE

Mulholland and Oaks Must Face Commission for Impromptu Encounter.

Rivalry between two members of the Oakland police force that has resulted in several arguments culminated last night in Patrolmen John Mulholland and Oaks coming to blows shortly after they had reported on duty. The two stalwart patrolmen squared off at each other and fought a three-round battle, in which Mulholland got the better of Oaks. The pugilistic encounter occurred about 8 o'clock last night at Adelphi street, near the West Oakland livery. Superintendent Wilson has demanded a detailed explanation from the two men and they will be asked in all probability to appear before the board of police commissioners tomorrow.

BERKELEY, Feb. 12.—Just one week after a fire in Al Zeimer's cigar store on Center street, which started in a show window and was extinguished by a brown stream from a root beer keg, with Special Officer Nelson at the hose, a sneak thief broke into the same window and stole two champagne pipes and other articles valued at $300.

The theft took place early yesterday morning, the thief breaking the glass and reaching into the window from the sidewalk.

BAILEY DEVELOPS SENSATION IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—By resorting to the bold device of asking his antagonists in the senate to stand up and testify, Senator Bailey of Texas today developed a dramatic situation in his discussion of the case of Senator Lorrimer of Illinois.

The Texas senator's remarks were devoted largely to the substantiation of his contention that a sufficient number of votes must be given to the bill brought to affect the result unless it is proven that the official whose election is challenged personally participated in the offense.

CHURCH CELEBRATES FIFTY YEARS OF WORK IN OAKLAND

REV. HENRY K. SANBORNE, pastor of the Brooklyn Presbyterian Church, who delivered the golden jubilee address yesterday morning.

PARISH GLORIES IN GOLDEN JUBILEE

Week of Worship and Social Events to End Sunday Night.

With a commemorative sermon delivered yesterday morning by Rev. H. K. Sanborne, pastor of Brooklyn Presbyterian church, the golden jubilee anniversary of that church was observed by the members of the congregation. The celebration will continue until Sunday evening, when Dr. W. H. Landon, president of the San Francisco Theological seminary, will give an illustrated address on "The Passion Play."

The service was decorated for the occasion with large gilt bibles, reading the numbers 1861-1911, and hung over the pulpit Rev. Sanborne's text was selected from Leviticus, "A nation shall call his name in the day of his death."

Several of her sons have entered the ministry, and members have gone out as missionaries in home and foreign fields. Aside from the church support her benevolences now reach yearly about $1800. The members have been receiving the last year. The Sunday school has always been an important branch of the church and the attendance has passed the 300 mark.

MEANING OF WORD.

"Jubilee signifies a time of shouting every seventh year. With the children of Israel in its origin jubilee betokened release in Jehovah's goodness, deliverance and gracious purposes, second, rest from the labor which became the effort and contributed to their progress, third, restoration of all to their first positions, the allotments which God intended for each and lastly, liberty for all the inhabitants thereof."

"Perhaps most significant of all was its intimate connection with the day of atonement," for on that day the trumpets sounded to announce the commencement of the jubilee. Christ himself blew the first notes of the jubilee trumpet when he proclaimed the kingdom of heaven to be at hand and opened the way to the new dispensation, evangelists and missionaries have prolonged the sound throughout many lands."

RAI FOLLOWED.

A Sunday school rally followed the morning devotion and many of the forty members of the Brooklyn Presbyterian church were in attendance, among them being Rev. Franklin Bledsoe, J. C. Adair, William DeWolf and J. W. Sather, president of the school was also present. Rev. Hugh Glick of Mount Hermon preached the evening sermon, entitled

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Anna Denary, wife of Leon Denary of San Mateo, will journey across the Atlantic to Austria-Hungary shortly to see the father and mother who lost her when she was only a year old and who for thirty-eight years have been searching the world over to find her.

Mrs. Denary will sail with her husband, Allen, aged 39, and Edward, aged 18, and there is to be a family reunion such as has seldom been celebrated.

It was through the aid of Congressman Kahn and the American consul at Budapest that Mrs. Denary has found her aged parents. She received her first letter from them only two days ago, which told the story of her life and her separation from her parents. They wrote that when she was less than a year old she was taken into the home of her father's brother to remain during a severe illness of her mother. Three months later the uncle and his wife sailed for America and she was given as a child to a lady of the little Anna Low new Mrs. Denary, who took her with her concealing the identity of her real parents.

ASK NEW LOCATION FOR S. P. STATION

Berkeley Merchants Would Have Main Line Trains Stop at University Avenue.

BERKELEY, Feb. 12.—Co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce in a campaign to have the Southern Pacific establish a passenger station at the foot of University avenue was recommended by a committee of the Merchants' Exchange at a luncheon and business meeting of that body held at the Hotel Shattuck early this afternoon.

The main line trains now stop irregularly, or upon request of passengers, at the station located at the foot of Bristol street, several blocks north of University avenue.

Upon the latter artery, which runs through the center of East and West Berkeley, there is a cat line, which makes it preferable as a stopping point. It is planned to have a bus from the Shattuck Hotel meet all important trains if the company erects a depot at the proposed site. The committee which is working with the Chamber of Commerce in behalf of the innovation consists of W. L. Woodward, G. A. Griesche and A. S. Cooley.

The Y. M. C. A. yesterday Lincoln formed the theme of a talk by the Rev. Samuel Patterson of the North Berkeley Congregational church. The Rev. Patterson was the title of his address and in it he gave the exemplary life of the martyred president of the United States. The young men of today, Mrs. Clarence W. Page sang several contralto solos at the conclusion of the exercises.

There was an unusually large one, many of the men, no doubt, being attracted by the patriotic music.

The various churches paid tribute to Lincoln, a Lover of His Kind," was the theme chosen by the Rev. Samuel Patterson for the sermon at the evening service. Memorial services were held at the Berkeley Congregational church in the morning, and the work accomplished by the great president was reviewed by the Rev. W. C. Case, the pastor.

Rev. Richard L. Vaughn of the First Baptist church, who is pastor of the Albany chapel and the Park Congregational church, also gave a sermon on the life of Lincoln.

CONTEST GINGER.

Don't disappoint the friends who nominated you. They believe you can win and it's up to you to prove them right. Are your friends organized into a rustling brigade for you? If not you may be missing lots of votes and subscriptions. If you should happen to meet Major BIG-TALK and he tells you how many million votes he has salted down, just give him the laugh by saying that you have twice as many. Probably you HAVE twice as many as he.

A prize was never won on coupons alone. Let the children and your friends clip them for you while you are out after subscriptions.

Bring in your subscriptions promptly to the Contest Department. They need not be voted until you wish.

If you want to know how it feels to own your own Auto watch the happy faces that whiz by you today.

Don't envy your friend his Touring Car. Be a hustling candidate and win one.

It's quite a step up in the world, that step into your own Auto.

Where do you stand now in the Contest? Maybe just outside, wondering if you shall take a bold plunge and enter. Why, certainly, that is the wisest move to make. It's rather chilly and cheerless standing there in doubt, but once you are a REALLY, TRULY candidate you won't have another chilly moment. You will be in a glow of expectation and enterprise.

Come on and enroll your name with those of the other bright and energetic candidates. Then go out and try for a few subscriptions. It may seem a little difficult at first, but when you have say FIVE written down in your receipt book the difficulties will begin to disappear. You will know just how to go about it, and practice makes perfect.

A TIP TO CANDIDATES.

If there are any candidates who remain in doubt as to whether this is really the best vote offer of the Contest we wish to state positively that no offer of votes as good as the present will be made during the entire Contest, nor will this offer be renewed after February 25th.

This is final and there will be no later change of decision. Your Harvest Days should be right now, before February 25th. Read the published schedule and GET BUSY NOW.

That's as plain as we can make it. We wish this to be clear in the mind of every candidate. If so far you have done nothing we urge you not to delay. Not only is valuable time passing, but more active candidates will soon be interviewing your friends. You should surely have some votes to your credit on the published list so that your friends may know you are in earnest and may give you their subscriptions.

All subscriptions which are to count on the present rate of votes should be brought into the Contest Department promptly. This greatly facilitates the work, insures delivery of the paper at the proper time, and is best for you, for us and for your subscribers. The votes on these subscriptions need not be published until you wish.

50,000 EXTRA VOTES.

A bonus of 50,000 extra votes will be given on the first $30.00 in paid subscriptions that we receive from any candidate.

COUPON VOTES.

If candidates wish their coupon votes to be counted to their credit they must positively not clip off the date line.

If you have a big bunch of coupon votes it is sufficient for you to write your name and address clearly on the first one or two at the top and fasten them all together in a neat package. This saves you much unnecessary work and you run no risk of loss, as each package is counted separately.

PRICE AND VOTE VALUE OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

CORONATION PLANS ABSORB BRITISH

Pageantry and Historical Interest of Ceremony to Be Great.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Since the beginning of the coronation plans the British court has been busy absorbed with preparations for the coronation of George V. and his consort, Queen Mary, in historical interest all former coronations of the British monarchy.

These two coronations of the King and Queen in Westminster Abbey on June 22nd will be the last coronations in which the coronation has been followed since the coronation of William IV. and Queen Adelaide in 1831.

London business men and transportation companies count on an influx of nearly 2,000,000 visitors during the coronation season. A large portion of these will be foreigners, Americans and Colonials probably predominating.

PROGRESS OF COURT.

These will include the progress of the court through London on the day after the coronation and will be the last coronation in which the coronation has been followed since the coronation of William IV. and Queen Adelaide in 1831.

London business men and transportation companies count on an influx of nearly 2,000,000 visitors during the coronation season. A large portion of these will be foreigners, Americans and Colonials probably predominating.

HOTEL RATES DOUBLED.

The best places at the hotels are being reserved for regular patrons and managers say prices will not be more than double the regular rates. Boarding-house keepers are likely to be less reasonable in charges to visitors who have not made arrangements for accommodations in advance.

There is every indication that the coronation of the King and Queen will be a more extensive than for the coronation of King Edward in 1902. The coronation is being celebrated in the highest prices ever quoted for building sites and windows.

INSURANCE BRISK.

A lively insurance business has begun at Lloyd's against the death of the King or any event necessitating the postponement of the coronation and against bad weather.

Dr. Davidson, the present Archbishop of Canterbury, will officiate in the coronation ceremony at Westminster Abbey on June 22nd. The recently appointed Dean of Winchester, Dr. Davidson, will assist the Archbishop in placing the imperial mantle on the King's shoulders at the Royal School of Art Needlework.

CAMERA'S EYE SEES FOR THE BOOKWORMS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—State Librarian Gillis has installed a new and novel method of supplying outsiders with data from the State Library. He has had a photographic scheme and is proving a success. She State Librarian receives many calls for information on a wide range of subjects. This is always supplied, but many times it happens to be found in a newspaper, magazine or some rare book. These cannot be sent around the State, so that when the inquirer would want a copy of the particular article covered the question the only way to obtain it was to either come to Sacramento and copy it himself or employ some one to do it for him.

The new plan makes it possible for a man to get a copy of anything, no matter how rare, that is to be found on the library shelves. A picture of the book, newspaper or magazine is taken, and the type full-sized, so it is as easily read as the original. The process of making the picture is simple and it only takes about an hour to complete the job.

Taft's Administration

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 13.—At the annual meeting here yesterday of the directors of the League of Republican Clubs of the State of New York resolutions were adopted which endorse President Taft's Administration and acknowledge the league's obligations to Roosevelt "for the constant friendship he has shown to our league organization."

SHOT BY VICTIM'S HUSBAND.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 13.—A woman who attempted to outrage a white woman Friday was shot and killed by James Boren, husband of the victim, while being taken to jail by the sheriff.

MANY NAMED FOR PRELATE'S THRONE

Archbishop Ryan's Death Will Lead to Many Changes in Church.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Important changes in the government of the Catholic church in America are made inevitable by the death of Archbishop Ryan. There will be a strong rivalry for the throne he has vacated. Priestly circles of the archdiocese of Philadelphia may be expected to make a strong plea for the promotion of a Philadelphia, one of the bishops of that province, as is more likely, Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the North American College at Rome.

According to the laws of the church, Auxiliary Bishop Frendergast becomes administrator of the archdiocese pending the appointment of a successor. It is understood Bishop Frendergast, who is well advanced in years, has no desire to be promoted. Many of the archbishops may be expected to favor the promotion of some prelate entirely disassociated with the province of Philadelphia.

BISHOP O'CONNELL NAMED.

Among those prominently mentioned are the two rectors of the Catholic University, Bishop Conaty and Bishop Coakley. D. J. O'Connell of San Francisco. The latter was appointed coadjutor with the right of succession in the event of the death of Archbishop Riordan, who also has been ailing for a long time.

Archbishop Ryan was in a similar place at the time he was transferred to Philadelphia. He was coadjutor to Archbishop Kardel, with the right of succession, and that prelate was most anxious that his energetic assistant should take his place, but some had other plans. Bishop O'Connell of Sioux Falls and Bishop Keane of Cheyenne, Wyo., are also likely to be considered.

INVESTIGATES GAS LEAK WITH MATCH; HURT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Smelling what he thought to be a decidedly unusual odor emanating from the basement of his new high street restaurant and pool-room yesterday, G. Ishimaru took a match and went below to investigate.

In the investigation which he published in a window in the place was blown out, the door was torn from its hinges and Ishimaru and two customers considerably burned. A patrolman who had been standing in the doorway escaped by reason that he had been driven away by the smell, which he thought to be that of some new-fangled Japanese cookery. The greater portion of the force of explosion was spent in the sewer, whence the leak emanated. It was sufficient to blow out a couple of manhole heads some distance away.
